

STREET COATS

THIS blustering "Norwester" is but a "sample" of many to follow! We knew it had to come! Been fully prepared all along with an enormous stock of

Heavy Overcoats, Storm Ulsters, &c.,

The qualities are the best. As to prices, if you can buy one of our coats at a lower price elsewhere, you may have ours FREE.

Parker, Bridget & Co.,
Modern Clothiers, 315 7th St.

GLYNN FAKED A KNOCK-OUT

Threw the Fight to Joe Bateman at the Vendome Athletic Club.

Tough Crowd on Hand—Many Fights Not on the Programme—Rue's Cowardly Assault Upon Daly.

It is to be regretted that the opening fight at the Vendome Athletic Club should have been so badly. It was hoped that the prize money could be pulled off in the new clubhouse, but that idea was entirely dissipated last night at the Bateman-Glynn bout.

The Eureka Club saw some tough crowds at some of its contests, but they always managed to keep some semblance of order. The contest was pulled off in the old ring at Stueber's Road House and the mob that took it in was about as tough an aggregation as could be gathered together in a week's hunt.

The preliminary bout was a six-round go between Pat O'Connor and Billy Nally, and lasted just one minute and a half, owing to a long wrangle over who should officiate as referee it was 10 o'clock when the men entered the ring.

Pat O'Connor and Jim O'Connor looked after O'Connor and Joe Gandy did for Nally. The men lost no time in hammering for an opening, but went at it in sparring and tongs, and O'Connor was soon on the ropes and bleeding freely. Nally knocked him down as fast as he got on his feet, finally he was counted out hanging over the ropes.

Another long wrangle took place as to who was to referee the Bateman-Glynn bout, and finally the referee was chosen. Griff's backer and manager, was chosen to fill the position. At exactly 11 o'clock the men entered the ring. The local man was looked after by Pat O'Connor and Joe Wilson, while Tony Starnard handled Glynn.

From the manner in which Glynn started in the bout it looked as if he had the right would be a hot one. Glynn had all the best of it and outfought his opponent at every stage of the game. In the seventh round he had him all but out, Bateman was bleeding from a cut over the eye and also had a rash on the side of his head.

To the surprise of every one, Glynn was in the ring for the eighth round, and he suddenly stopped fighting and attempted to slip down at every opportunity. Bateman fell once or twice and Glynn made feeble attempts to get him. Finally Glynn evidently did not go, however, and from then on every time the Wilmington man made a pass at him he would fall down or duck.

Finally in the early part of the eleventh round he went down a couple of times and when he came up he was a weak blow on the back of his neck he fell forward, catching himself as he went, and was counted out by the referee.

ANOTHER CUP CHALLENGE.

Sir George Newnes Reported to Have One in His Mind.

London, Nov. 21.—A Paris dispatch to the Globe gives what purports to be a report of an interview with Sir George Newnes, who was reported to have decided to challenge for the America's cup.

Replying to the question whether he would issue a challenge or not, Sir George responded by saying that it was possible and even probable that he would do so, but before making his decision he would wait the outcome of the present inquiry, growing out of the last year's cup.

If Lord Dufferin should then decide not to challenge again, Sir George said he himself would challenge, if he received the support of the leading British yachtsmen in the venture.

The Yachting World, commenting upon the possibility of Sir George Newnes' challenge for the America's cup, says: "We hope that Sir George Newnes, who is completely unknown in yachting circles, has more sense than to challenge."

ON THE DIAMOND.

Now that Chris Von der Ahe has won his suit against the Wagner's, the happy baseball fans have become heartily tired of the controversy and are glad to see it settled. The suit dated back to 1891 and grew out of the fight between the National League and the American Association.

It will be remembered that in order to embarrass the League club in Cincinnati a number of the Association managers or owners a club to divide the National League. Von der Ahe had almost complete control of the club, which finally went to pieces. The debts were paid in full by the St. Louisan, who then called upon his brother managers for their pro rata share of the losses incurred. The Wagner's denied liability in the matter, and every time the Senators played in St. Louis, President Von der Ahe attached their gate receipts. Wagner did likewise when the Browns played in Washington and at the end of the season a considerable sum of money was tied up at each city.

The managers of the Western Baseball League completed the club circuit by admitting Toledo and Columbus. Omaha lost on account of geographical location. The following clubs are in the league: Indianapolis, Detroit, Toledo and Columbus in the Eastern division; Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Kansas City in the Western division. The surplus money, about $1,500 to each club, was divided, and a committee was appointed to prepare next season's schedule.

"Kid" Gleason was in Baltimore yesterday and talked freely about the recent deal that sends him to New York. It is patent that Gleason is not at all pleased with the idea of playing under Fredman's banner next season. In fact, he is

QUINNERS AT NET VERNON

University of Pennsylvania Team Will Put in Final Work.

THEY ARE THE FAVORITES

Experts Say They Will Easily Dispose of the Harvard Line—Capt. Wrightington Will Insist Upon His as One of the Unlucky—Wharton's Knee Getting Into Shape.

(Special to The Times.) Mount Vernon, N. H., Nov. 21.—The University of Pennsylvania football team is now safely quartered at the Hotel Grand, which is about a quarter of a mile from Campbell's Hall.

At the hotel good accommodations have been secured for the thirty men in the party. The entire house has been thrown open to the boys. Besides the regular sleeping rooms, a gymnasium has been especially fitted up. The men will practice in the large open hall, and at the same time the ground there is very level, and is a capital place for them to execute the signals and even line up against a scrub eleven.

WHARTON'S KNEE IMPROVING.

The men are in fine condition. Wharton's injured knee is rapidly improving and Gehlbach and Dickson are getting along first rate. Wharton will surely play Sunday, but it is not decided whether he will play end or half. The players are very confident and all seem to think that the game will be won by a good score. The first hard day's practice will be put in tomorrow. The work will be the hardest since Monday, and will be the hardest the team will put in, as Friday will be devoted to tricks that do not require the exhaustive work.

Capt. Williams has not filed his objection to Wyckoff or Cornell as umpire, and H. L. Pratt of Amherst as referee, but Capt. Wrightington will insist upon his as one of the umpires, and under no conditions will he accept Williams. The Pennsylvania captain, however, will probably telephone the Harvard leader to-morrow morning regarding the matter.

PENNSYLVANIA THE FAVORITES.

The presence of the Pennsylvanians has caused no end of excitement in this little village. The townspeople are very enthusiastic over the coming match, and this evening gathered in the hotel to discuss the game and discuss the chances of Harvard and Pennsylvania. Of course, the Pennsylvania boys were the favorites, as they have won the championship of the United States.

At the hotel good accommodations have been secured for the thirty men in the party. The entire house has been thrown open to the boys. Besides the regular sleeping rooms, a gymnasium has been especially fitted up. The men will practice in the large open hall, and at the same time the ground there is very level, and is a capital place for them to execute the signals and even line up against a scrub eleven.

In regard to the "free throw," which is allowed for fouls, the distance which the ball must be thrown has been reduced from twenty feet to fifteen feet.

A player once leaving a game for any reason will hereafter be declared ineligible for participating in the contest then going on. This rule is to curtail and discipline the practice of taking off a good player to gain wind and substitute him again when he is needed.

Two fouls for rough playing will disqualify a player from further participation in the game.

In regard to dividing the floor into three courts, the rules say nothing, but most teams have adopted this method and will play that way.

Charles T. Essig was among the number reported hurt in the football game of three weeks ago between the Rad-Lake Forest team and the Illinois Cycling Club eleven at Douglas Park, Chicago. At the time Essig thought his injury a mere bagatelle, but it has since proved to be a serious one, and at one time it was feared he would lose his right arm.

In a scrimmage one of the Rush men sank his teeth deep into the muscles of the forearm of Essig, who had the ball. The next day the wound was badly swollen, and it kept growing worse until the entire arm was swollen to a great size, from the fingers to the shoulder. When the swelling began Essig sent for a physician, who cut the arm open, and the swelling subsided, and at one time it was feared he would lose his right arm.

The following extract shows how the wind blows in New York. The Stock Exchange yesterday afternoon, some of the brokers opened impromptu books on the Yale-Princeton football game, which will be played at Mount Vernon on Saturday, but few wagers were recorded. There was plenty of Yale money, but the friends of Princeton were scarce. "Dick" Peabody offered around $5,000 on Yale, and if more Princeton money does not turn up, the odds may be 5 to 3 on the day of the game.

Hickok, the Yale weight thrower, weighs about 200 pounds in good condition. Mr. Hickok has a number of medals which the A. A. U. says he must give up. It seems that Mr. Hickok competed in games sanctioned by the A. A. U., but he claims he was reinstated. The Union says the reinstatement was the strongest in the intercollegiate, Mr. Hickok smiles, and without expanding a muscle, invites the Union to make the strongest in the intercollegiate, Mr. Hickok smiles, and without expanding a muscle, invites the Union to make the strongest in the intercollegiate.

LOCAL AMATEUR SPORTS.

The Gallaudet College and Canterbury Athletic Club teams will meet at Kendall Green Friday evening, at 8:30 o'clock. Next to the Columbus the Canterbury team claims to be the strongest in the District. Capt. Watson is confident his team will put up the best showing against the Gallaudet, any local team has made this season. According to the local press, the team makes the best showing against Gallaudet will be the choice of the Columbus for Thanksgiving Day's game.

The Potomac team of Gallaudet's score to 6 points and the Orioles prevented them from scoring, yet neither of these teams have met the Canterbury eleven, and the outcome of Friday's game will be a contest with more than usual interest. The game will be played at Kendall Green and an admission fee of 25 cents charged. All ladies admitted free of charge.

One of the best played games of basketball so far in the league series was the one which took place last night in the Light Infantry Armory between the home team and the Corcoran Cadets, and was won by the former by the score of 4 to 2.

The teams lined up as follows:
C. Cadets.....L. Infantry.
Davis.....E. G. Waters.....E. E. Dodge.....J. F. Lee.....J. F. McGee.....J. F. Shreve.....J. F. Prosser.....J. F. Schaffert.....J. F. Guist.....J. F. Bivens.....J. F. Lockhead.....J. F. Hough.....J. F. DeMott.....J. F. Robinson.....J. F. Score.....W. L. 1; C. Cadets, 2. Goals made for W. L. 1—Shreve, 3; Lee, 1; For Cadets—Davis, 2.

Umpire, Mr. S. Bieker; referee, F. P. Lihby; scorer, A. Alexander; time, three 15 minute halves.

The football game will be played tomorrow night in the National Guard Rifle Gallery at Fifth and L streets, between the Military Officers and Potomac Wheelmen. Game will be called at 8 o'clock.

The Canterbury football eleven are anxious to meet the Potomac or the Orioles at any date that may suit them. They prefer the Orioles, as that team is somewhat the stronger of the two. Address E. Lansing, No. 82 E street northeast.

"Kid" Gleason was in Baltimore yesterday and talked freely about the recent deal that sends him to New York. It is patent that Gleason is not at all pleased with the idea of playing under Fredman's banner next season. In fact, he is

"Kid" Gleason was in Baltimore yesterday and talked freely about the recent deal that sends him to New York. It is patent that Gleason is not at all pleased with the idea of playing under Fredman's banner next season. In fact, he is

"Kid" Gleason was in Baltimore yesterday and talked freely about the recent deal that sends him to New York. It is patent that Gleason is not at all pleased with the idea of playing under Fredman's banner next season. In fact, he is Ulsters, Top Coats.

Now look for Pneumonia—Consumption—Colds—and the rest. Get your Top Coat or Ulster at once. Do you want quality and fashion—pay $15—a little less—$10—a medium—$12.50—take your choice—all are good—excellent—but delay no longer.

"It's Over-coats you need."

LOEB & HIRSH
910 & 912 F St.

"THE WHITE BUILDING"

PEPPER COLLECTING DATA

He Believes Congress Wastes Many Dollars on Funerals of Solons.

Intends to Make Himself More conspicuous Than Ever at the Next Session as a Treasury Watchdog.

Surface indications are to the effect that Senator Pepper will, during the coming session, renew his crusade against everything that savors of extravagance and waste.

Senator Pepper intends to make himself more conspicuous than ever this winter, if possible. He believes that many dollars are wasted in each Congress on the funerals of dead Representatives and Senators.

He has made repeated visits to the Capitol, collecting data for a forthcoming speech on this subject. He finds that it costs $1,000 to bury the late Senator Wilson of Maryland, and $20,000 was expended in carrying the remains of Senator George Brown to California.

He will give an itemized account of these expenses, and tell how much was spent for caskets, shrouds, gloves, railway fares, and the like, for the funerals of dead Senators. He believes that Congressmen often have a merry time on these funeral trips, and that the expenditures should be curtailed, or abolished altogether.

Mr. Pepper was one of the committee to escort the body of the late Representative Wright to his last resting place in Pennsylvania, and it is presumed that he will make a similar trip to the funeral of a Senator.

He will give an itemized account of these expenses, and tell how much was spent for caskets, shrouds, gloves, railway fares, and the like, for the funerals of dead Senators. He believes that Congressmen often have a merry time on these funeral trips, and that the expenditures should be curtailed, or abolished altogether.

Mr. Pepper was one of the committee to escort the body of the late Representative Wright to his last resting place in Pennsylvania, and it is presumed that he will make a similar trip to the funeral of a Senator.

He will give an itemized account of these expenses, and tell how much was spent for caskets, shrouds, gloves, railway fares, and the like, for the funerals of dead Senators. He believes that Congressmen often have a merry time on these funeral trips, and that the expenditures should be curtailed, or abolished altogether.

Mr. Pepper was one of the committee to escort the body of the late Representative Wright to his last resting place in Pennsylvania, and it is presumed that he will make a similar trip to the funeral of a Senator.

He will give an itemized account of these expenses, and tell how much was spent for caskets, shrouds, gloves, railway fares, and the like, for the funerals of dead Senators. He believes that Congressmen often have a merry time on these funeral trips, and that the expenditures should be curtailed, or abolished altogether.

Mr. Pepper was one of the committee to escort the body of the late Representative Wright to his last resting place in Pennsylvania, and it is presumed that he will make a similar trip to the funeral of a Senator.

He will give an itemized account of these expenses, and tell how much was spent for caskets, shrouds, gloves, railway fares, and the like, for the funerals of dead Senators. He believes that Congressmen often have a merry time on these funeral trips, and that the expenditures should be curtailed, or abolished altogether.

Mr. Pepper was one of the committee to escort the body of the late Representative Wright to his last resting place in Pennsylvania, and it is presumed that he will make a similar trip to the funeral of a Senator.

He will give an itemized account of these expenses, and tell how much was spent for caskets, shrouds, gloves, railway fares, and the like, for the funerals of dead Senators. He believes that Congressmen often have a merry time on these funeral trips, and that the expenditures should be curtailed, or abolished altogether.

Mr. Pepper was one of the committee to escort the body of the late Representative Wright to his last resting place in Pennsylvania, and it is presumed that he will make a similar trip to the funeral of a Senator.

He will give an itemized account of these expenses, and tell how much was spent for caskets, shrouds, gloves, railway fares, and the like, for the funerals of dead Senators. He believes that Congressmen often have a merry time on these funeral trips, and that the expenditures should be curtailed, or abolished altogether.

Mr. Pepper was one of the committee to escort the body of the late Representative Wright to his last resting place in Pennsylvania, and it is presumed that he will make a similar trip to the funeral of a Senator.

He will give an itemized account of these expenses, and tell how much was spent for caskets, shrouds, gloves, railway fares, and the like, for the funerals of dead Senators. He believes that Congressmen often have a merry time on these funeral trips, and that the expenditures should be curtailed, or abolished altogether.

Mr. Pepper was one of the committee to escort the body of the late Representative Wright to his last resting place in Pennsylvania, and it is presumed that he will make a similar trip to the funeral of a Senator.

He will give an itemized account of these expenses, and tell how much was spent for caskets, shrouds, gloves, railway fares, and the like, for the funerals of dead Senators. He believes that Congressmen often have a merry time on these funeral trips, and that the expenditures should be curtailed, or abolished altogether.

Mr. Pepper was one of the committee to escort the body of the late Representative Wright to his last resting place in Pennsylvania, and it is presumed that he will make a similar trip to the funeral of a Senator.

He will give an itemized account of these expenses, and tell how much was spent for caskets, shrouds, gloves, railway fares, and the like, for the funerals of dead Senators. He believes that Congressmen often have a merry time on these funeral trips, and that the expenditures should be curtailed, or abolished altogether.

$8.50 Rough Boucle Jacket $5.95
$6.50 Beaver Jacket 3.98
$12.50 Persian Lamb Jacket 8.96

The above coats are box front, ripple back, large mandolin sleeves, and as stylish as any garment costing three times as much.

Our prices are cheaper than the mis-cut sample coats advertised by others, which are in reality only returned jobs.

CLARK'S
734-736 Seventh St. N. W.

LATE CHINESE RIOTING

News Just Received of It From Faraway Southern Province.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 21.—The Emperor of China arrived Tuesday night, bringing the following Oriental advice:

The news reached Nankin on October 28th of another anti-missionary riot having taken place in the southern part of Kiang, and that wholesale destruction of foreign property resulted, as well as the wounding of a Roman Catholic priest.

Whether American property was included in the work of destruction is not known, but such is not unlikely to have been the case. Protestants and Episcopal churches have missions there.

On the 16th ultimo the Korean minister of household issued a proclamation announcing the intended selection of a consort for the king. According to a time-honored custom, the issue of this proclamation has the effect of prohibiting for the time being the marriage of all girls of and above thirteen years of age throughout the entire country.

The selection must be a maid, and in Korea, early marriage being the prevailing custom, a choice will be practically limited to girls between thirteen and seventeen, or eighteen at most.

Thirty or forty girls are to be nominated and from among them three will be first choice, and one of the three the final choice will fall.

It is believed that a reorganization of the Japanese cabinet is about to take place. The new cabinet will be a coalition, comprising members of the older generation mixed in with "new men."

It is spoken of in advance as "the cabinet of all talents."

The Imperial Japanese Diet convenes December 25.

The inhabitants of Tokushima, Kagoshima prefecture, were told to be in a very destitute condition. A serious storm visited the island on July 24, and the sweet potato crop, the chief staple of the islanders, was ruined. The rice was also greatly injured.

The inhabitants, numbering 30,000 in all, are now reduced to eating leaves and stalks of potatoes, carrots, etc. Local officials find it difficult to relieve such a large number of persons, and it is feared that many deaths will ensue.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.
Women's Auxiliary to the New York Body Is Organized.

New York, Nov. 21.—A well-attended meeting of women was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Bishop R. C. Potter for the purpose of organizing a "Women's Auxiliary to the New York Civil Service Reform Association."

Use of Potter presided, and interesting addresses were made by Hon. Carl Schurz and Mr. Herbert Welsh of Philadelphia.

Mr. Schurz related a number of incidents in his official experience, showing the unfortunate position of the women employees of the Government under the old system of appointments for favoritism, and pointed out the essential function of the women of New York in the constant effort to improve the personnel of the local government.

Mr. Welsh's address was an eloquent exposition of the moral issues involved in the movement for civil service reform, and of the danger existing to the national character in the spoils idea in politics.

The auxiliary was organized by the election of the following officers: President, Mrs. William H. Scheffelin; vice president, Mrs. C. E. Lowell; secretary, Miss Chandler; treasurer, Mrs. Winthrop Cowdin; executive committee, the officers and Mrs. F. H. Kinnicut, Miss Schurz and Miss Margaret Morgan.

HAS FOUND A PLACE.
Corbett and Fitzsimmons May Now Fight If They Are So Disposed.

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 21.—Dan Stuart, who has been negotiating to bring a sensational territory contiguous thereto for the last two weeks, looking for a place where a prize fight may be pulled off without molestation, has returned to Dallas.

He said to the United Press correspondent: "I have found a spot where Corbett and Fitzsimmons may fight as long as they are able to stand up, and nobody will interfere with them."

"The place is not far from El Paso, but I shall not make it public until the morning of the fight."

Stuart said for New York on Sunday next and feel confident that I will have a grand time in bringing to the public articles. Fitzsimmons is in earnest and will fight Corbett on any terms."

Emile Arton Caught.
London, Nov. 21.—Emile Arton, who was arrested here last week for alleged connection with the late Baron Reinach in the Panama scandals upon an extradition warrant issued by the French government, was arraigned in the Bow street police court this morning and remanded for a week. He is under sentence in France to serve twenty years' imprisonment and to pay heavy fines.

Seaboard Air Line to Atlanta, Account of Manhattan Day.
Secure your tickets for Atlanta by the Seaboard Air Line, operating the famous Atlanta special, leaving Washington daily at 8:40 p. m., arriving at Atlanta 4:30 p. m. the following afternoon. Round-trip tickets sold today, Friday and Saturday, good to return within five days, $14. Accommodations in the sleeping cars, 82 Washington to Hamlet, 24 Washington to Atlanta, one berth accommodating two persons. The Seaboard Air Line, with its fast train service, offers the best accommodations to tourist travel.

TINY DOG FOR MISS RUTH

President Cleveland's Daughter to Be Given a Pretty Pet.

COL. OSTHELATER'S PRESENT

The Animal Weighs Only Twenty Ounces and Is Two and a Half Years Old—Nestles Calmly in the Palm of a Man's Hand—It Is Named Leo and Is a Beauty Black and Tan.

Col. Charles Osthelater, a survivor of the Forty-fifth Wisconsin Infantry, arrived in Washington from his home in Milwaukee today. Osthelater, his purpose in coming here is to look after private business affairs, but his advent into the city will be fraught with more joy to Baby Ruth Cleveland than his furniture vans can transport in one day.

Col. Osthelater has brought Miss Ruth a dog. It is a pigmy. There isn't enough of it to go around among the other girls of the President, so the generous donor is going to give the midget to Ruth alone.

The dog is a full black-and-tan, and stands without a parallel among the products of the canine genealogical tree. Though the animal is perfectly proportioned, it stands but four inches high, and weighs just twenty ounces.

HE'S A TWO-YEAR-OLD.
"Leo, that's his name," said the genial colonel to the reporter, "was born on the 21st of May, 1893, so you see he is two and a half years old. He will, of course, never grow any more. His parents were of the ordinary size of such a variety of

This Is the Dog.
The dog family, and he has brothers and sisters that are even larger than the parent dog.

"You see, I had a special pocket sewed inside my coat," continued the colonel, "as he unbuttoned his coat and revealed a pouch sewed to the lining, and from the top of which was poking the tiniest head of the twenty ounces of dog."

"I carried him there all the way from Milwaukee, and he wasn't a bit of trouble. I'm going to give him to Baby Ruth. I have no children of my own, or could never have brought it from the city of its birth. She will be sure to like it, I know."

SCAMPED ABOUT.
Col. Osthelater then placed the freak upon the table, and the little fellow scampered playfully about on the cloth. It was quite an effort on his part to keep over the instand in the center of the table, and when he picked up a penholder in his mouth to run off with it his strength failed him.

"What do you feel him, colonel?"
"Flee to summer. All dogs, I think, you know, but he can make a meal on them. I don't take many. Then, he is quite fond of cream. He is delicate in his tastes and can eat two or three chocolate caramels at a sitting. He was known to kill a mouse once, but he was afraid of it after it was dead. Of course, a full-grown rat is as big as the dog, and he could easily worst him in a fight."

As the animal was placed upon the floor and began taking vehement exercise by long runs across the room, it looked small enough to have come from the Brownian land. Seeing a large spider cross the floor, it gave chase, barking as it went, the bark sounding like the snapping of matches.

NESTLED IN HIS HAND.
As if performing solely for the benefit of the spectators, the tiny creature hurried for the colonel's hand when he reached down to the floor. Jumping into the outstretched palm, the dog nestled down in a little black-and-tan coil and made scarcely a sound.

The present owner of the dog is very solicitous for its safety, and will never feel contented until it is safely housed between the doors of the President's car. If it appears count for anything, he has a right to be, for the tiny canine looks as though a puff of wind would blow it away or a little rough handling would break it in two like a piece of china.

An admiring crowd surrounded the colonel and his dog all morning, and every one was of the opinion that the Cleveland boy would go wild with joy when they saw their new playmate.

Col. Osthelater will call upon Mr. Cleveland before he leaves the city, and will then present the tiniest dog on earth to the President's little daughter.

Remnant Day.
Tomorrow is our great remnant day. All the short pieces of any goods we have on hand we sell on Friday at about half cost.

5c Cambrics 4-1-4c
12-1-2c Seersia 7-1-2c
10c Canton Flannels 8c
6c Canton Flannels 4c
6-1-2c Bleached Cotton 4-1-4c
12-1-2c Turkey Red, Oil-bolled 6c
8c White Goods 3-1-2c
8c Crash 3-1-2c
8c Gingham 5c
6-1-2c Indigo Blue Calicos 5c
20c All-wool Flannel 15c
5c Children's Handkerchiefs, 2 for 5c
5c Children's Pocketbooks 4c
10c Dressing Combs 4c
8c Tooth Brushes 5c
8c Side Combs 5c
15c Infants' Booties 9c
$1.98 Ladies' Dress Skirts $1.49

There'll be all sorts and conditions of wheels on the market next year. Some good, some bad, and lots of them indifferent, but you can rely upon the '96 "COLUMBIAS" being the pink of perfection.

Take those lessons necessary to perfect your riding at Columbia Field. "Guard auto" ticket, 12.

Columbia Field, "COLUMBIAS" "HAMFORDS" 452 Pa. Ave.

Distriet Cycles Co., 452 Pa. Ave.

Distriet Cycles Co., 452 Pa. Ave.

Distriet Cycles Co., 452 Pa. Ave.

Distriet Cycles Co., 452 Pa. Ave.

Distriet Cycles Co., 452 Pa. Ave.